(Boys in Khaki) From the Southern Cross.)
(Golfing Lads in Navy Blue.)

Words by Evelyn Green.

Music by Evelyn Green. and C. F. Mansson.

Marcia

First, two song of old a song and true loudly and clear we hear the bugles call us.

Full melody

Take to the British Lion on all his
As on his hind the Shade keeps us
By Taming Africa's lion and the
Our carter men their path for him

Let us all be men, who have made all all the best of us, they are kept all the best of all the best of all.

Now you will find a shadow on a tree, and on the road the Road y' see light the way to the light.

There are many of us here, and when there's here and there, the light, the light, the light.

Light up to the door, the door, the door, the door,
 the light, the light, the light, the light.

Chorus

Boys in the back of the Southern Cross, - the last of the boys.

See Boys (Opp) page 2

Now, With us is to go the land and to the sea, You've passed what you can do, For when the mother country called you, You led round the knee, In your first steps to me, Here you are here and the golden rule who rule the sea, Sea, sea.

“THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.”

OUR BOYS.

(“Boys in Khaki from the Southern Cross, Gallant Lads in Navy Blue.”)

Do you want a song that gets straight to your heart and stays there? THIS is that song. It is the famous song of the Army and the Navy, and is a glowing tribute to their brave and splendid achievements on land and sea. The melody is grand and the words are inspiring. Sung with enormous success by Miss Hilda Guiver. Get your copy to-day.

WHEN YOU WORE A TULIP AND I WORE A BIG RED ROSE.

The big International Chorus Hit. This song has never failed to be a winner wherever it has been sung. In England and America it has been classed as a front-liner among popular successes, where it has established a record. Cleverly sung by Misses Campbell and Nugent.

BABY DOLL.

A sweetly pretty little number with a ragtime lilt to the music. Daintily portrayed by Miss Gretchen Yates. Sometimes one can detect a great sameness in ragtime songs, but this number has an originality of its own. It has a charming, bright, and winsome melody that will just get you.

LET ME CALL YOU SWEETHEART

The big ballad success of the Pantomime. Introduced and popularised by Miss Hilda Guiver. A song after the style of “I’d Love to Live in Loveland,” it goes even one better than that wonderfully successful song. Everyone will agree that it is the BIG HIT and its popularity is absolutely assured. It is everybody’s favorite.

A-N-Z-A-C.

(Australian New Zealand Army Corps.)

Some songs are here to-day and gone to-morrow, but A-N-Z-A-C is here for all time. Introduced by Miss Constance Cayley, it is now being sung, whistled, and played throughout the length and breadth of the country. Every man, woman, and child, father, mother, sister, sweetheart or wife, should have a copy of this song to keep in memory of our glorious ANZACS.

I’VE GOT YOU ON A STRING.

(I Just Want You.)

The dainty and novel wool-winding song, which is now being featured with immense success by Miss Gertrude Yates. You will love this song. It is easy to sing, and if you sing it once, you will want to sing it a thousand times. No one can stop it on the road to success once you start the ball rolling. Be sure to get it!
